

Outdoor Adventure

The Great Goose Hunt of '97 — In the annals of Canadian hunting lore the following will no doubt live as one of the most unlikely true stories of all times, as it is so far out most readers will believe it is fiction. In our usual quest to harvest the Great Canadian Goose, myself and my two boys — Doug and Brad — left the great city of Calgary for the northern community of Hines Creek, Alberta for the September 1 opening day. Written by Bruce McIntosh